To: John Wilson <j.fitz.wilson@superduper.co.us>

Date: November 15

Subject: *Updates and good news

Hi John,

How are you doing? You stayed at my school from April to last month and we did a lot of things with you. We had a good time, so we miss you. I remember you told me about your favorite Japanese *phrase, itadakimasu. I hope your stay in Japan is a special *memory for you.

Yesterday, I went to the library with our friend, Miki. She borrowed five books! I asked her, “Can you read them all?” She answered, “Yes. Reading books is a lot of fun for me.” I think she is a (1)bookworm! I told another friend of ours, Rika, about her. She said, “I know she is often in the school library and reads books, so I am (2)(① that / ② hear / ③ surprised / ④ not / ⑤ to) !” Tomorrow I will ask Miki about good books to study history.

By the way, I have good news! I will go on a trip to your country, the U.S., with my family next month. To go there is one of my dreams, so I’m very glad. We will arrive on December 27 and leave on January 3. We will stay in New York City from December 28 to December 30. From December 31 to January 3, we will stay in *Miami. You live in New York City, right? Why don’t we meet? *Tell me which date is good for you.

Write me soon,

Ayako

次の文は、中学生のタカシが書いたスピーチの原稿と表(Table)です。これを読んで、後の問いに答えなさい。なお、計算等を行う場合は、この問題の余白のページで行うこと。

Do you sleep well every night? Sleeping well is very important for junior high school students. First, they are still growing. Their bodies and brains are developing. When they don't sleep well, their bodies don't make enough *growth hormones. (1) They are needed for our healthy growth, so enough sleep is important to grow up well. Second, sleep plays an important role in *learning and memory. When junior high school students sleep well, they can *maintain better *cognitive function and *improve *academic performance. That means that studying through the night may not be good. Last, sleeping well reduces stress. Junior high school students may feel some stress from their school and daily life (A) doing a lot of homework and *quarreling with their friends. Then, they should go to bed earlier and have enough sleep. Sleeping well is good for these points.

Last week, I asked 200 students in our junior high school, "What time do you usually go to bed?" and "Why do you usually go to bed that time?" Table 1 shows the results of my first question and Table 2 shows the results of my second question. In Table 1, "From 11:00 to 11:59" is the most popular answer. It is thirty percent. Only two percent of the students go to bed before 9:00. This was surprising because forty-four students go to bed at 0:00 and after. I think that they should go to bed earlier to have enough sleep. Next, Table 2 shows that the percentage of "Play a video game" is as much as the percentage of "Watch videos on the Internet." Thirty-two students answered "Study" and "Read a book" is the most popular.

According to a *study, junior high school student's *adequate sleeping time is 8 to 10 hours. Sleeping is necessary *even after students become *adults. I believe that starting to think about sleep now is important for our lives.

Table 1 What time do you usually go to bed?
Time	Percent (%)
Before 9:00	2
9:00 — 9:59	17
10:00 — 10:59	(ア)
11:00 — 11:59	30
0:00 and after	(イ)
*Total amount	100

Table 2 Why do you usually go to bed that time?
Reasons	Percent (%)
(ウ)	32
(エ)	16
(オ)	21
Watch videos on the Internet	21
Others	10
Total amount	100
